FEATURED ARTICLE

Acrolis was a small, ocean-covered planet that was located in the Acrolian sector in the Outer Rim Territories, mostly known as the homeworld of galactic figures such as Drewika Zíráæt̃, Megan Wronck, Draevus Octavianus Zíráæt̃, and Gaius Demyus. It played a major role in the years prior to the fall of the Old Republic and the rise of the Galactic Empire. It was known for its artistic similarity to its neighbor Naboo, but it too possessed a military bent courtesy of the Mandalorians, and the earlier Taungs, who had colonized the planet.

Populated by both the jet black-skinned, red-eyed Acroyali and the descendants of the Mandalorians, the planet was proud of its history while shunning others that they viewed to be "uncultured" or "uncivilized." For this reason, Acrolian civilization was considered by numerous Human and non-Human societies to be xenophobic in nature. However, its longstanding government, the Acrolian Star Empire, was respected for its ability to uphold the warlike culture of Acrolis while spreading peace and stability to the surrounding planets. The Acrolian culture, though initially despised by conquered peoples, was eventually embraced for the stability it provided.

The planet rarely experienced a regime change, remaining a republic and, later, an empire for many thousands of years with uninterrupted success and stability. The planet was also one of the few that successfully resisted invasion during the many galactic conflicts of the Old Republic and Imperial years, into the era of the One Sith.

FEATURED WORK

A New Course by Atarumaster88

"Brace for impact. Gonna be rough," Jebvui warned them.

Samtel tightened his seat restraint, even though he'd already done so about ten times during re-entry. He began counting the seconds until they hit from her announcement, getting to about eight and a half before it happened.

It being a jarring crash of the Quick Step. As unpowered crash landings went, it wasn't bad, as it didn't kill the entire crew instantly. Unfortunately, it wasn't anything remotely close to smooth and innocuous. The jarring impact tore Samtel's over-tightened strap and hurled him from his seat, sending him flying around the crew lounge along with a motley assortment of other ship fixtures, slamming painfully around as the ship scraped along the surface of the planet. The last thing he remembered was the port bulkhead rushing up at his side much too quickly for his liking. Then there was a sharp pain in his left arm and side, then unconsciousness.
